

TO HELP CAUSE OF EDUCATION

Mr. T. J. Seay Tells of Work of Industrial League of South.

TO BEGIN WORK IN RICHMOND

Many Prominent People in Washington Back of the League.

Mr. T. Jackson Seay, chairman of the Executive Committee of the Industrial League of the South, arrived in the city yesterday with the intention of forming, if possible, an associate league in Virginia, with Governor Swanson as its president.

Mr. Seay is very enthusiastic in his interest in the work of the league, and has much to say regarding its possibilities. The league was chartered in 1903 and reorganized in September of 1905, and in 1906 established its headquarters on Massachusetts Avenue, Northwest, Washington, D. C. Centered in Washington, its membership is composed of many Senators and Representatives and their wives and other leading men and women of social position in the Capital City, all of whom are infused with the highest patriotic motives in arousing greater interest in the furtherance of elementary and industrial education in all the old Southern States. The league was first organized by Mrs. S. W. Halsey, sister of United States Senator John W. Daniel, who collected the first dollar for the organization at the St. Louis Exposition in 1903, when she was selected to speak at the fair as the representative of Virginia on Virginia Day. On this occasion she took the opportunity of presenting the subject and of outlining its scope, and securing the first subscription from a noted female philanthropist of the North.

Interest in Education.

The society has as its definite object the arousing of interest in the education of the poor and illiterate white children of the South and of ameliorating the conditions which, in a thousand and one instances, prevent so many indigents from securing the inalienable privilege of education. In many sections of the South, States educational facilities are sadly lacking; in nearly all the school terms are so short as to be almost useless. As a consequence illiteracy among the Southern poor is widespread, a fact which materially militates against the industrial and social development of the Southland. To remedy this evil the league was formed, and back of it are some of the most prominent men and women of the South, all of whom, with a few exceptions, are residents in Washington, D. C. Mr. Robert H. McNeill is president of the league; Mr. T. Jackson Seay, chairman of the Executive Committee, and among the members are Mrs. Charles W. Fairbanks, Mrs. J. P. Dolliver, Mrs. A. C. Lattimer, Mrs. Marion Butler, Mrs. Henry P. Ritzler, Mrs. Ritchie, Mrs. Dabney C. Harrison, Congressman John Sharp Williams, Mrs. Champ Clark, Mrs. Frances M. Anderson and Rev. Robert Lee Allison.

Ex-Governor Hoyt, of Wyoming, is one of the author now pending in Congress for a permanent charter, and it has the endorsement of Senator Daniel, of Virginia; Senator C. C. Chapman, of North Carolina; Congressman George Clark, of North Carolina; Congressman John Sharp Williams, of Virginia; and many others. It is the object of the parent league in Washington to establish associate leagues in all the capital cities of the South, which in turn shall aid in establishing the associate leagues in all the county seats of the Southern States. The passage of the bill in Congress has been delayed so that the charter membership may be increased to a million, if possible, and so that the educational movement may be thoroughly established throughout the South, and its cause championed by all the Southern Governors, educational boards and commissions and school superintendents. The bill gives it the right to have and to hold property, and to receive bequests and donations.

Strong Board.

For its government the bill provides that the board of directors of said league shall be composed of a board of trustees, to consist of the Chief Justice of the United States, who shall be president of the board; the Secretary of Agriculture, the Secretary of Commerce and Labor, the Commissioner of Education and nine other members, to be chosen by the members of the league in a public meeting thereafter.

Charter membership is received at the cost of a dollar, and the membership fees are ten cents per month. The charter money is to be used solely for the building and equipping of industrial schools for the indigent white children of the South. The parent league in the District of Columbia proposes that its funds shall be given pro rata to every Southern State, but the State and county associate leagues are to use their money for their own sections. The bill now pending in Congress provides for the work in all of the Southern States, and the parent league hopes that the Governors and the Southern people in general will come forward to the assistance of the league in the promoting of its great and beneficial work.

With a large membership and an associated league in every Southern State, the Industrial League of the South should carry forward a work that will be far-reaching in its importance and benefit to the poor Southern children. Its promoters are inspired by the best and noblest of motives, and are working with an energy that bids fair to accomplish the desired results.

WILL RESUME TO-DAY.

State Corporation Commission to Continue Rate Hearing.

The State Corporation Commission will resume the hearing of the freight rate matter at 10 o'clock this morning. Mr. Lincoln Green will again present the stand and will continue his testimony for the Southern Railway Company. General Anderson, of the commission, will sit during the week, with the exception of Wednesday, which will be July 4th. An adjournment will be had from July 10th to July 22nd, and then in August there will be no sessions, according to present arrangements.

Mr. A. E. Plant has not yet finished giving his testimony under Mr. Braxton's cross-examination, but when Mr. Green finishes his testimony, Mr. Plant will be called by the Southern Railway Company. The hearing will be adjourned until the Norfolk and Western and Chesapeake and Ohio are next in line.

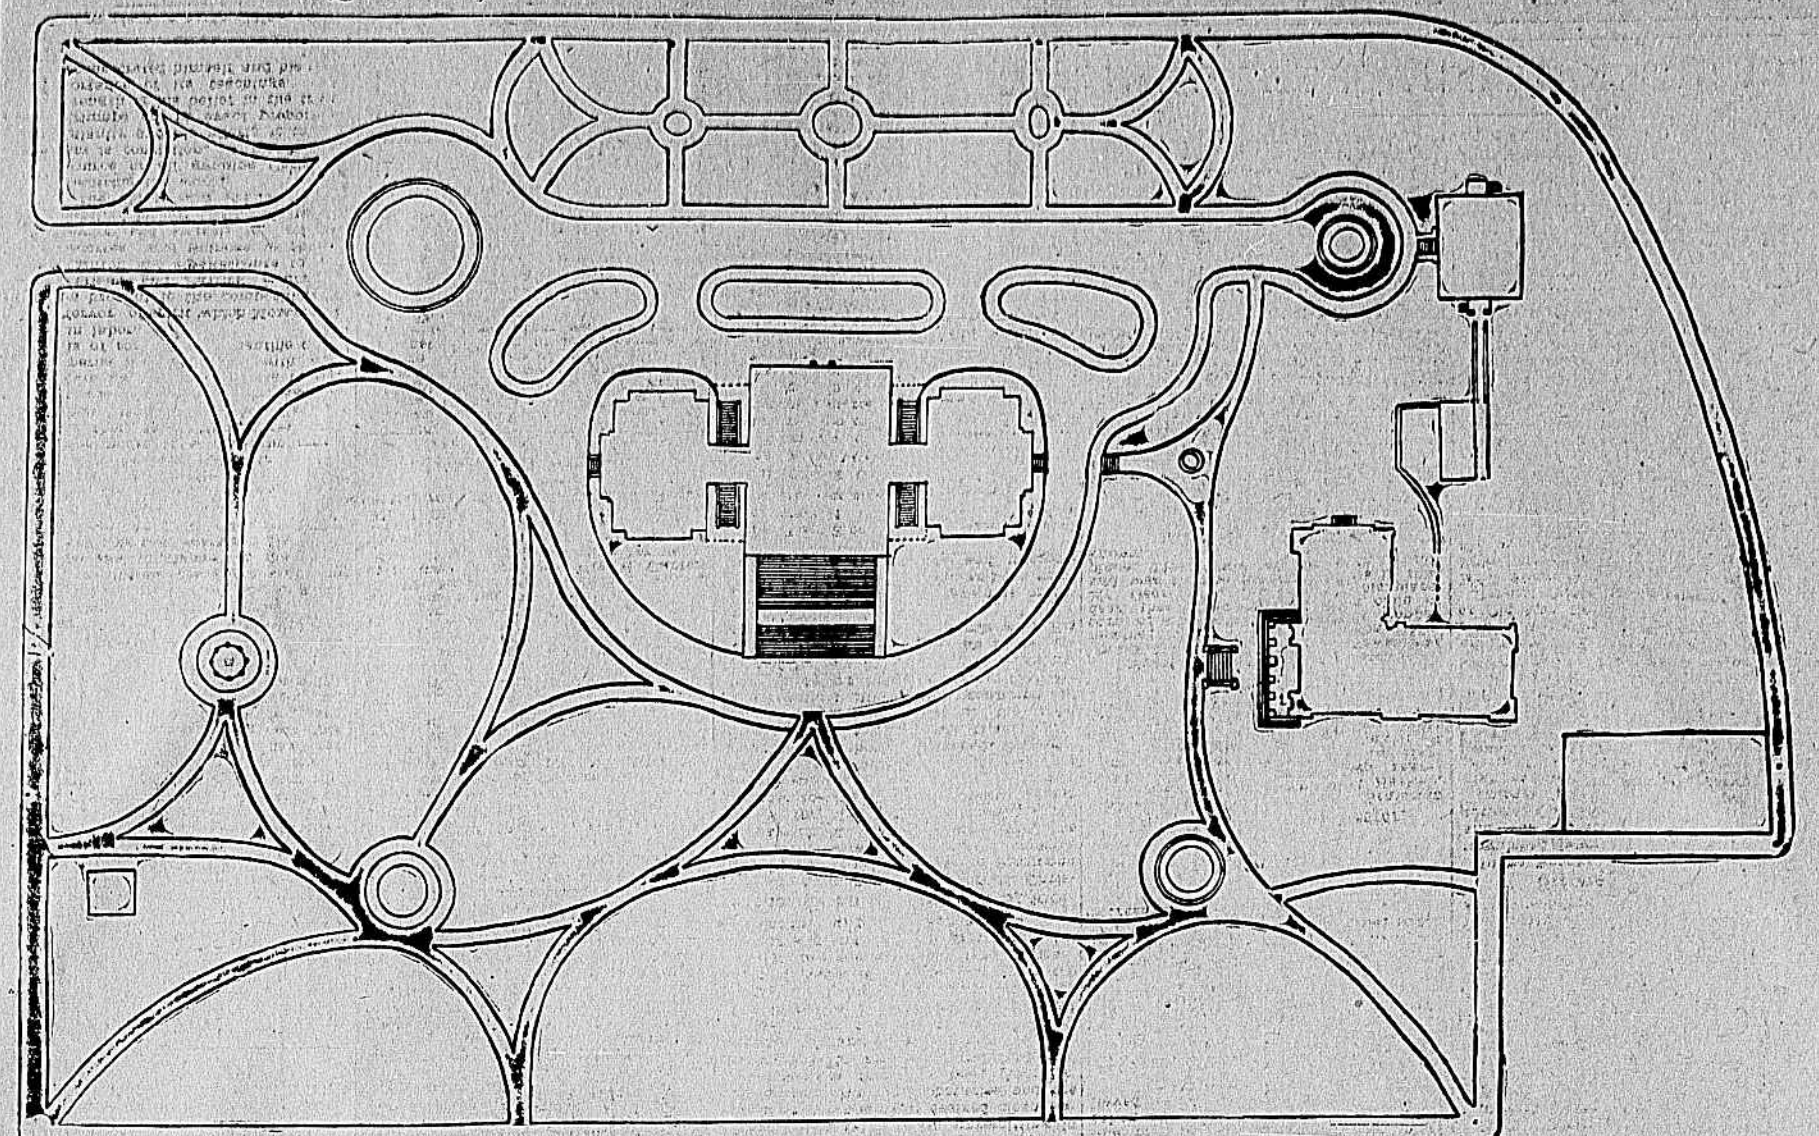

Keeping His Distance.

One W. E. Stairs, of Lynchburg, who took French leave of the penitentiary last week, is still in parts unknown. No one so far as is known, has heard anything concerning his probable whereabouts.

Stopping in the City.

Mr. A. E. Plant is in Richmond on his way from Norfolk to Bristol, and is stopping at No. 56 East Leigh Street.

DESIGN ADOPTED BY LEGISLATIVE COMMITTEE FOR WALKS IN CAPITOL SQUARE, PERFECTING AND COMPLETING THE PRESENT ARRANGEMENT

The subcommittee from the legislative committee named to expend $20,000 on beautifying and relaying the walks in the Capitol Square, is about ready to advertise for contracts for the work, the plans and specifications having been furnished by landscape gardener, George H. Brown, of Washington, D. C., who has charge of the grounds around the national Capitol building.

The subcommittee is composed of Senator A. C. Harman, of this city, and Delegate M. M. Green, of Fauquier, and they and the entire committee, including Governor Swanson, who is ex-officio chairman, are greatly pleased with the plans submitted and adopted.

They contemplate but slight changes in the walkways, as will be seen from the diagram printed above, but the grounds will be resodded and beautified in every possible way.

One new walkway is to be by and around the new Smith monument, to conform with those now leading by and around the statues of Jackson and McGuire, and there will be another new one leading from east to west by all three.

The driveways will not be materially altered, except that there will be a new one around the entire Capitol building.

The scheme is a very beautiful one, and when the grass plots are all newly laid out to conform to the walkways, the square will be fit for any one to look upon.

So far as can be learned, there will be no special attention paid to the question of shrubbery in the present scheme, except that in several instances old trees will have to be removed in order to follow the walkway lines laid out by the landscape gardener. The committee is of opinion that, barring unreasonable and unanticipated delay, the work of beautifying the Capitol grounds can be completed within the present year.

ON RELIGIOUS ENTHUSIASM

Dr. J. B. Hawthorne Shows That "Fervent" Spirit is Indispensable to Proper Service.

INTENSITY OF CONVICTION

This Another Element of Success as Christian Worker, as in All Life's Activities.

"Religious Enthusiasm" was the topic of Dr. J. B. Hawthorne's sermon yesterday at Grove Avenue Baptist Church. The text was Romans xlii: "Fervent in spirit, serving the Lord." He said in part: "The Greek word translated 'fervent' in this passage means a flame. The apostle is here exhorting Christians to serve the Lord with a flaming spirit. 'Such a spirit is indispensable to success in any great undertaking. Mozart, Handel, Beethoven and Mendelssohn worked with an intensity of zeal and strength of purpose seldom found among modern musicians. In their dreams they heard the angels sing, and when awake they wrestled with the angels until they were able to tell the world what they had heard in 'visions of the night.' 'The very soul of masterful oratory is intensity of conviction and aspiration. There was in Pericles a flaming spirit that caused the Athenians to imagine that they saw thunderbolts leaping from his brow during the delivery of his great orations. It was the unexampled fervor of Elijah that caused him to be called 'the prophet of fire,' and that empowered him to smite down the false religion of Baal. It was this element in the speeches of Patrick Henry that kindled the fires of the American Revolution, and won for him the name of 'The Great Firebrand.' It was this in the late Henry W. Grady that gave him the ear and heart of the nation and enabled him to sway and mold the multitude that gathered to hear him.

Intensity of Feeling. "It was the same intensity of feeling and purpose that possessed the heart and nerve the hand of Michael Angelo when he began to liberate the angel which he fancied he saw imprisoned in the marble. It was this that sustained De Vinci through those ten long years of labor until he gave to the world that immortal painting, 'The Last Supper.' It was this that upheld Christopher Columbus while he walked the deck of his ship in the midst of a mutinous crew, beseeching them to continue three days longer their search for this Western World. It was this that impelled Agassiz to prosecute his search for truth in the face of perils that paralyzed with fear the hearts of some of his scientific companions in labor.

The fervor of spirit which Mozart and Beethoven brought to the composition of music; Purcell and Patrick Henry to oratory; Milton and Shakespeare to poetry; Descartes and Spinoza to philosophy; Newton and Agassiz to science are required by our Divine Master to bring to the higher and grander work of Christianizing the world.

The source of all genuine Christian enthusiasm is conviction. A man's love for Christianity and his efforts to multiply its triumphs are in exact proportion to the strength of his belief in the truth and importance of its teachings. One who has consecrated himself and his powers to the cause of Christ will find that it is like no place on earth—Idlewood. Free outdoor attractions at Idlewood. Band concerts at Idlewood.

NEWS GATHERED FROM SOUTHSIDE

COUNCIL TO-NIGHT.

Lower Branch Will Probably Agree to High School Proposition.

A most important session of the Common Council will be held tonight at 8 o'clock, and much business of more than ordinary public interest will be transacted. The main question will likely be the proposition for the city to purchase the remainder of the block between Clay and Marshall and Eighth and Ninth Streets for a High School building, the northern half having already been acquired.

The Finance Committee has passed favorably on the matter, and chances are that both branches will follow what seems to be the evident wish of the people. Beyond this and all the regular work that is scheduled the Council will have before it a petition from the Police Board for twenty-five additional men. This is a matter that has been fought over many times, and it is hard to say what will be the result. The session will probably last until midnight.

A joint session of the two branches will be held at 7:30 o'clock to elect the city officers nominated last week.

Mr. Julian E. Hudgins, who was so badly scalded and burned by an explosion of an engine boiler on the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac Railroad early Saturday morning, was reported as resting more easily, but still suffering great pain, at the Retreat for the Sick last night.

The doctors are of the opinion that Mr. Hudgins' excellent physical condition will save his life. There will be several operations before the critical period will have passed.

Perkins and W. H. Mosley. Both of these men are well known in party circles, and are considered both fit and deserving.

There are two other sanitary officers to be chosen.

Clear Water Committee Holds Last Meeting and Clear Water Plant is Assured.

DEATH OF MISS SUSIE COLLY

Funeral of Mrs. M. W. Patram. Cowardin-Avenue Church Sunday School Receives Banner.

Manchester Bureau, Times-Dispatch, No. 112 Hull Street.

The Clear Water Committee held its last meeting Saturday night, preliminary to clearing the way for the work to be commenced on the new filtering plant. All the arrangements were completed, and the work is to be started within fifteen days. The plant is expected to be completed within four months after date of commencement.

This committee has worked energetically ever since it was formed by the Council, and it has been unremitting in its effort for the much-desired clear water, despite the many obstacles and the many demands that have been placed in its way. It is with a general feeling of gratification and pleasure that the committee knows that its labors are ended, and there is no less gratification felt among the people that the accomplishment of years of struggle and effort are soon to be rewarded with the construction of a plant that will afford the city a plentiful supply of clear water.

Banner Goes to Cowardin School.

At the quarterly meeting of the Christian Church Sunday-schools of Richmond and Manchester in Cowardin Avenue Sunday-school yesterday afternoon, the banner for the largest attendance was awarded to the Cowardin Avenue Church Sunday-school.

Mr. D. L. Pulliam, superintendent of Manchester schools, delivered the principal address, taking as his theme "Simplicity." He used Christ as the model of the simple life in garb, manners and daily mode of living, showing that the simple life as Christ lived it is as becoming in the modern day as in the age when Christ walked on earth with His disciples.

There was a varied programme of instrumental and vocal music, and the exercises were very complete and interesting. The West-End Church Sunday-school was awarded the prize for the largest average attendance in the quarter.

Address of Mrs. Weech.

Mrs. Amy Weech, State evangelist of the Women's Christian Temperance Association, spoke in Cowardin Avenue Christian Church yesterday morning for Rev. Mr. Woodward, the pastor. In the course of her address she discussed the war being waged by the association against the legalized saloon, which she characterized as the great enemy of the American home.

Mrs. Weech will speak again at 4 o'clock this afternoon at Clifton Street Church, and again Tuesday afternoon at the Oak Grove Baptist Church.

Sermon to Secret Orders.

Rev. E. V. Baldy, pastor of the Bainbridge Street Baptist Church, delivered last night one of a series of sermons addressed to the various departments of life and wage earnings. The sermon last night was delivered to the secret orders, and Mr. Baldy took as his text "The Password," on which he delivered a very able and forceful sermon, showing the value of all such orders and the necessity of keeping them clean and pure.

One candidate was baptized.

The musical programme of the services was greatly added to by a solo sung by Mr. Oscar Lohman.

The funeral of Mrs. M. W. Patram, mother of Alderman Robert L. Patram, who died on Friday afternoon, took place yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock from Oak Grove Baptist Church. A large crowd attended the funeral services, attesting the deep respect and friendly spirit in which Mrs. Patram was held by all her neighbors. Interment was in Maury Cemetery.

To Avoid the Heat.

Crowds of people kept the Forest Hill Park cars busy all day yesterday seeking some relief from the terrific heat in which they sweated in the two cities. Extra cars were run, and the people stayed at the park all day and far into the night, in order to secure a breath of fresh air and to get a sight of the country green. There was much traffic on the Petersburg line also, people coming and going on the double-deckers all through the day. There was some complaint at the closed cars which were run to Manchester during the afternoon. All but one of the closed cars, however, were taken off at night, and the condition relieved.

The regular meeting of the Elks will be held to-night, and one candidate will be initiated.

MAN WANTED IN THE OLD NINTH

Democrats Still Looking for a Candidate Willing to Go Up Against Slomp.

CONVENTION MEET IN BRISTOL

Second District Primary on September 4th Promises to Be a Warm One.

With the adjournment of Congress comes the usual autumnal spirit in Virginia politics.

In districts where nominations have already been made by the Democrats for Congress things will be quiet for awhile, and out of the ten on the slate, this is true of eight.

The nominations already made are: First District—W. A. Jones. Third District—John Lamb. Fourth District—F. R. Lester. Fifth District—E. W. Saunders. Sixth District—Carter Glass. Seventh—James Hay. Eighth—John F. Rixey. Tenth—H. D. Flood.

In the second there is a three-cornered fight of great interest. The candidates are Colonel George C. Cabell, Jr., of Norfolk; Judge D. Tucker Brooke, of the same city, and Congressman Harry T. Maynard, of Portsmouth.

It is claimed by the Congressman's friends that his work in getting through the Jamestown Exposition appropriation should weigh in his favor.

Strong Opponents.

Judge Brooke is one of the most distinguished lawyers in Eastern Virginia, and was a leader in the recent Constitutional Convention.

Colonel Cabell is a man who stands high at the bar, and who served a term in the Virginia House of Delegates with much distinction.

The primary will take place on September 4th, and it promises to be a very lively one.

"Candidate Wanted" is the sign the Ninth District Democrats are carrying around with them, and they would be glad to find a man willing to take a shot at Old Man Slomp.

General Rufus A. Ayers, of Wise, and Hon. Henry C. Stuart, of Russell, are looked upon as men who might underlie the wily Republican boss, but it is not believed either would accept the nomination if tendered.

Many Are Mentioned.

Former Governor J. Hoge Tyler is a strong man, but he does not care to run. Neither does ex-Senator R. P. Bruce, one of the most efficient and popular Virginia Democratic lawyers in Southwest Virginia.

Other strong men who are talked of are Commonwealth's Attorney Preston W. Campbell, of Washington, and former State Senator Alex. St. Clair, of Tazewell.

The committee has decided not to hold a primary, but to have a convention to name a candidate in the city of Bristol about the middle of July.

TWO COUNTIES APPLY.

Washington and Amherst Desire Local Road Improvements.

While State Highway Commissioner P. St. Julien Wilson is still out of the city studying conditions relating to road improvements in other States, he will shortly open his office here and will not work away from home.

The counties of Washington and Amherst have already filed applications for convicts with the Superintendent of the Penitentiary, and these applications will be acted upon as soon as the management of the penitentiary can have opportunity to confer with the State Highway Commissioner. The matter is one of such great moment to the people of the various counties that many applications are expected.

LOUISVILLE'S GREAT EARNINGS

It is Estimated That Company Will Earn More Than Twenty-Three Per Cent.

MAY INCREASE DIVIDEND

American Locomotive Works to Build Motor Cars—Reports of Railroads Show Increases.

The American Locomotive Company is taking active steps for the further development of its automobile branch, which is expected to become an important part of the company's business. The company embarked on this line of industry last year and has already developed this branch of the work considerably. Herman F. Hall, superintendent of motive power of the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern Railway Company, with headquarters at Cincinnati, has resigned that position to become one of the chief executives of the American Locomotive Automobile Company, a subsidiary company of the American Locomotive Company, which handles the automobile business. Mr. Hall will enter upon his new duties in a short time.

While the company is in a position to manufacture all kinds of automobiles, the building of heavy automobile trucks will be made a specialty, with particular attention devoted to the more general introduction of this class of vehicle. Such trucks are already widely used by large concerns in the delivery of goods, and it is confidently expected that they will soon develop into greater popularity.

Mr. Haughton, the new superintendent of the Richmond Branch of the American Locomotive Works, was sent abroad to select a "model car" for the company.

The Louisville & Nashville Railroad Company has now reported its gross earnings for the third week in June. Returns indicate the probability of this fiscal year closing with an increase of about $4,000,000 over the previous fiscal year. The annual report of the company is expected to indicate earnings which will follow in connection with the equities of the Louisville & Nashville in other properties, will amount to 20-12 per cent. on Louisville & Nashville stock. Before long current earnings are expected to show still more decided gains, as they will be compared with those of the yellow fever period of last year. Moreover, the cotton outlook is far better than it was a year ago. Unless there should be an unexpected business setback, it is estimated that in the first half of its new fiscal year Louisville & Nashville will show an increase of $2,500,000, as compared with the same period of the previous year. It is controllable that the company will show an earning power of 23 per cent. in the coming twelve months. In such circumstances it is not believed that the management will be able to withhold an increase in dividend payments to 7 per cent.

ADDITIONAL BOND.

White People Living Near Fulton Park Have Never Said "Nough."

The County Clerk of Henrico court has received the additional bond of $1,000, the requirement of which was decided upon by Judge Scott several days ago from the people near Fulton Park, who have been closed by injunction about a month ago.

At that time they put up a $5,000 bond, but it was later proven by the park owners that the injunction could not more than that sum by the injunction if the coming hearing proves that the sale of the park is legal.

The Fulton Park, which has been bought by colored people, was closed by an injunction secured by the whites in that district on the grounds of color and agreement, stating that the park should not be used by negroes.

Embassy Now in Palace.

(By Associated Press.)

MEXICO CITY, July 1.—Ambassador Thompson has moved the American embassy to the palace in the grounds of the Congress avenue, a house of recent construction with twenty rooms and ample accommodations for the growing work of the embassy.

American residents in the larger interior cities will observe the Fourth of July. Ambassadors of the United States and Mexico will celebrate in this city, and an agreement has been reached by which President Diaz has been invited and has accepted in a most gracious manner.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

HAS BEEN ASLEEP TWENTY-TWO DAYS

Awakens Long Enough to Take Nourishment and Then Sleeps Again.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

CHARLOTTESVILLE, VA., July 1.—A special received here to-day from Faber, Nelson county, tells of a mysterious case that is puzzling the physicians of that neighborhood. Twenty-two days ago Mr. F. R. Bradshaw, a very prominent business man of Brunswick, Md., arrived at Faber's and complained of feeling ill. He went at once to bed, and has been asleep ever since, except at short intervals of time, when he takes a little nourishment. The unfortunate man is being constantly attended by several physicians. Mr. C. M. Carpenter, a well-known merchant at Faber's, has a little hope that the young Bradshaw will finally be aroused from his deep slumber.
